Second Arrest In Mitchell Post Office Burglary

Guy Wallace, 26, of Granite City, has been arrested near Dover, Tenn., in connection with the burglary at the Mitchell post office on the night of Sept. 28. He is charged with possession of stolen money orders. A federal postal inspector, William E. Bailey, and Stewart county, Tenn., Sheriff Lloyd Miles said a money order machine and 249 money order forms were found inside an abandoned refrigerator behind a bar at the farm home of Wallace's father near Dover.

Wallace was being held by federal authorities in Nashville, Tenn., pending appearance before a U. S. commissioner. A federal postal inspector in St. Louis said he would have a choice standing trial either in Tennessee or in this district after bond is set.

About 75 of the forms were made out to Barbara Knapp, 24, of Collinsville, in amounts of $75 to $100. She was arrested last week in Tallahassee, Fla., and has been charged as an accomplice to forgery.

Authorities said the money order blanks found were part of those stolen in Mitchell, where $1000 in cash and stamps also were taken when a safe was pried open. Some of the forged money orders were passed in Clarksville, Tenn., about three weeks ago.

Wallace currently is on probation. He was convicted two years ago of aggravated battery in the shooting of an Alton man following a minor traffic mishap in Madison. He was given six months on the state prison farm at Vandalia in addition to three years probation.

Proposed New County Liquor Law Hits Snag

Madison county's new liquor control ordinance, which has been under study for a month for "study" by members of the county board of supervisors, struck another snag in Tuesday's county board session at Edwardsville and, from all indications will be completely revised before it gains passage.

The ordinance was prepared by the office of State's Atty. Joseph Bartylak several months ago at the request of Supervisor Frankendorf, who said he needed the new code to tighten control on taverns in county areas, particularly as to enforcement of closing hours. The bill was given full reading at the October board session, but failed to win approval when a number of supervisors insisted they be furnished copies of the ordinance and given an opportunity to study it in detail.

Presented for passage in Tuesday's meeting by the board's liquor committee, the bill encountered its first difficulty when Supervisor Roger Eble of Wood River interrupted the roll call vote on a passage motion to ask Bartylak if it would be possible to amend the ordinance by dividing the type of liquor licenses into four different categories. Eble said he believed licenses should be sold in four classes, rather than as a single license authorizing the sale of liquor.

"I believe," Eble told the board, "that there should be a license for taverns, where beer and liquor is consumed on the premises; that there should be a separate license for liquor stores authorizing only the sale of package liquor on the premises; still another license for restaurants where it is sold at retail in connection with serving meals, and a fourth license for clubs with national affiliation, such as the American Legion, VFW and others, as well as benefit organizations."

Revisions Possible
Bartylak replied that such amendments were possible and easily could be made through revision of the ordinance if the board wanted it that way.

At this point the board was informed that a representative of the Madison County Tavern

Mrs. Mary Margaret Greenlee, 80, a resident of Madison for more than 58 years, died about 2:15 p.m. Tuesday, at her home, 1528 Fifth street. Death was attributed to a heart ailment.

Mrs. Greenlee had become a familiar figure to many Madison residents as she had walked a distance of six blocks each morning to attend St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church at Tenth street and Alton avenue. She had discontinued the daily trip only after becoming ill just three weeks ago. She was born in Richwoods, Mo. Her husband, Arthur Greenlee, died in 1938.

Survivors include one son, Leo Greenlee of Cuba City, Wis.; seven daughters, Mrs. Ernest (Henrietta) Schienschang of Madison; Mrs. Francis (Winifred) Bringer; Mrs. Donald (Isabel) Lucy and Mrs. Edgar (Aurelia) Pench, all of Granite City; Mrs. Wade (Cecelia) Williams, Edwardsville; Mrs. Harold (Dorothy) Rice, Collinsville; and Mrs. Grover (Mary Joseph) Kellams of Salt Lake City, Utah; 28 grandchildren and 15 great-grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are given in today's obituary column.

Invest County Funds In Savings Firms

A plan to invest $125,000 in Madison county's Detention Home funds with saving and loan firms of Madison county was announced this week by County Treasurer George Musso.

Musso said that other county funds, including tax protest monies, have been invested in U. S. 90-day Treasury bills and in banks through Madison county, but this will be the first instance in which funds have been invested in savings and loan firms.

Interest return on investments with savings and loan firms, Musso said, ranges from four to four and a half percent. This is higher than U. S. Treasury notes which pay around three and a half percent. Banks pay two and three-fourth percent.

The $125,000 invested can be withdrawn at any time upon reasonable notice, Musso explained, but it is more likely the funds will remain on deposit indefinitely awaiting further developments on construction of a Madison county Detention Home. Bids were taken several years ago, but plans never have reached the building stage.

Association wished to address the board. Permission was granted and G. Edmund Cook, Granite City attorney who explained that he had been employed by the tavern owners group to represent them, said he wanted to review several sections of the proposed code that would work considerable hardship on tavern operators in county areas.

Breaking down regulatory language of a number of sections, one by one, Cook charged that the ordinance contained a large amount of sentences "that no one can understand." He said he believed that the supervisors, in acting on such a bill without giving serious thought to every phrase, was establishing a law that it would be difficult for anyone, "even a lawyer," to interpret.

As an example he pointed to Section two of the act which defines the meaning of words embodied in the ordinance, and declared: "I don't see there a description of the meaning of police characters, hoodlums, vagrants and vagabonds which other parts of the bill lists as persons to whom tavern owners are not allowed to sell liquor. Can you tell me what a vagabond is, or what a police character is?"

Cannot Discriminate
He said that the Illinois state liquor control law provides that tavern owners must sell without the bill, and to work out revisions if the board wishes to do so.

"Cook said that he believed the tavern owners, who are 'citizens and taxpayers' believe they should have a voice in terms of the laws under which they must operate and said the association would like to be represented at discussions on a revision of the ordinance as it now is."

Supervisor Robert Ford of Wood River moved that the ordinance be delayed another month to give the license committee a further opportunity to go into the complaints against liquor control law provisions, and to work out revisions, so visions.

I revised it from a model ordinance, and I believe that if more time were given it could be improved and revised. I will be glad to meet with the license committee and with anyone else to work on revisions if the board wishes to do so."

$340,000 Federal Aid Grant for Road Job

A resolution providing for addition of a $340,000 federal tax aid matching fund to the Madison county board of supervisors Tuesday at the request of the board's road and bridge committee headed by Joseph Troeckler of Chouteau township.

The money will come from a new federal program, but Troeckler said he has been notified the $340,000 grant, earmarked for use on the Maryville road improvement, must be used by the end of 1966 or it will be cancelled.

The grant provides a federal share based on $446,000 which the county has coming from the State to be used on the project.

Maryville Road Widening Approved by County Board

The Madison county board of supervisors meeting Tuesday at Edwardsville approved a resolution accepting an agreement by Granite City for its share of the work in connection with paving and improvement of County Highway 45 extension from the city limits south to East Pontoon road.

Granite City has agreed to finance a 50% share of the improvement, including all right-of-way, construction of curbs and gutters, installation of driveway pavement and sidewalks, grading and drainage and other work for a four-lane pavement, 46 feet wide, subject to plans approved by the county highway department.

The job is to cost $110,000. The city also is to be responsible for utility line changes, relocation of a sewer lift station and two manholes at the north city limits and maintenance of the improvement after it is completed. The resolution was presented by Joseph Troeckler, chairman of the road and bridge committee, after an agreement signed by Granite City officials had been filed with the board as the first item of business Tuesday morning.

The board also approved a resolution appropriating $650,000 in motor fuel taxes for construction of the Maryville road improvement from the north city limits subject to approval of the state division of highways.

The hymn, "If Jesus Goes With Me," was the opening song by the group. Mrs. Gladys Potillo read the Scripture and presented a program, "Moment We Enter God's Plan."

Those participating in the program were Mesdames Wilma Ambury, Lottie Squires, Louise Potillo, Grace Lensing and Alma Davis. Prayer was given by Mrs. Bobbie Sparks. Clothing to be sent to the Leslie Bates Neighborhood House in East St. Louis was sorted.

75% SIU-SW Master Degree Graduates Have Positions

Nearly three-fourths of the students earning master's degrees at Southern Illinois University-Springfield last year found seven-year period were employed full-time while they did their graduate work.

A survey just published by Howard V. Davis, professor in the Education Division, also indicates that the master's degree meant higher salaries for most of the men and women contacted.

The median income is now $8000, and 88% of them are employed in teaching and educational administration.

The master's degree in education was the first graduate program approved for the new campus. Davis received 315 answers to questionnaires sent to 378 graduates, and only six respondents received their advanced degrees in some other field.

Twice as Many Men
Davis reported that master's degrees were awarded to twice as many men as women between 1957, when SIU-SW began offering graduate courses in Alton and East St. Louis, and 1964. During that span of time, the sharpest gains came in the field of guidance, which numbered 38 graduates in 1964 compared to 14 in the field of elementary education.

Of the 315 degree winners covered in the report, 204 are employed in Illinois and 53 in Missouri. 111 have taken course work beyond the master's level, and 50 are engaged in program leading to a specialist's certificate or a doctorate.

The average age of the 1964 master's degree recipient was 33, compared to the average age of 38 in 1959. Prof. Davis theorizes that easy availability of graduate work for students who can also work full-time will continue to close the gap between the time students earn their bachelor's degree and the time that expires before they enter graduate work. Most surveyed by Davis said they decided to take graduate work because classes offered by SIU-SW were close to home and because of low tuition costs.

Response to questionnaires also showed that 96.5% were also employed during the graduate program and 89.5% said they would recommend the SIU-SW campus to others.

Overton Leads the Pack

Turkey Day Game Could Decide Scoring Crown

An eternal optimist could have a field day speculating on the prospects of various candidates for this area's scoring champion, with all the "ifs" and "maybes" that are still a part of the picture.

At present, Cahokia's Larry Overton leads the pack with 78 points, while East St. Louis' Ron Lane is second with 66 points. Cahokia's Charles Tieman is third with 61 points.

Belleville's Clyde Kuehn, winner of the crown last year, is tied with Highland's Don Yann and Cahokia's Don Gilmer with 60 points each for fourth place.

Cahokia has finished its season, and there are only two games left to play, one of which could decide the scoring title.

St. Louis University High meets Alton, and since the Redbirds have no one in contention for the title, all eyes will be on Lane and Kuehn when they meet in the traditional East St. Louis-Belleville Thanksgiving Day game.

Lane must score more than 12 points to take the crown away from Overton, while Kuehn has to come up with at least 19 points to pass Overton for the lead.

Highland's Craig Manwaring is in seventh place with 58 points, Steve Rohr of East St. Louis is in eighth with 55, and Ron Waltz of Bethalto and Jim Dvorzhak of Wood River are tied for ninth with 54 points on their season.

Quail Count Down 25%

A quail population down some 25% from last year and poor hunting conditions caused by dry weather will spell fewer birds for area quail hunters this year, according to Southern Illinois University wildlife authorities.

John L. Roseberry, assistant director of the SIU Cooperative Wildlife Research Laboratory, said summer hatching of baby birds was well below the normal rate, in spite of the high breeding population indicated by last year's quail count.

SIU wildlife laboratory personnel, in cooperation with the Illinois Natural History Survey, have been analyzing Southern Illinois quail populations each year since 1950. Their studies include field surveys on a 1500-acre research tract near Carbondale.

Roseberry said field studies conducted into the first week of November indicated a quail population this fall about equal to that of 1960 and 1961. Peak years since the survey was started were 1957 and 1958.

The SIU researcher emphasized that quail populations over the area will vary because some regions provide better nesting conditions during the breeding and hatching season.

He said throughout Southern Illinois, however, dry and dusty fields will make it difficult for quail to work unless the dry pattern prevalent through October and early November is broken.

Khoury League Dinner-Dance Set

The largest young boy and girl program of its kind in the country, the Khoury League, will hold its 30th Anniversary dinner-dance on Sunday, Feb. 20 in the Hotel Chase Khorassan Room, 4-4141 or J. A. Massey, VI 3-8400. St. Louis, it was announced this week.

Announcement of the date of the dinner-dance was made by George Khoury, executive director of the organization that started as a four-team league and now numbers over 40,000 boys and girls in the metropolitan St. Louis area, nationally and internationally known.

"At the present time there is a total of $10,595 from last year's affair plus proceeds from pre-tournament dinners, Cardinal-Detroit exhibition baseball games, the BPA bowling tournament and other events," Khoury said. No Upland Game Hunting During Deer Season

William T. Lodge, director of the Illinois Department of Conservation, today reminded sportsmen that all upland game and fur-bearing hunting is prohibited during the deer season in the 63 counties where deer hunting with shotguns is permitted.

Deer season is divided into two periods. The first is Nov. 19, 20 and 21, and the second is Dec. 2, 3 and 4.

A limited number of permits will be available at the Jobavess, Carroll, Hardin and Union stations and at the Pope county check station at Golconda until noon Saturday, Nov. 20. They will be issued on a first-come, first-served basis to hunters who did not obtain a permit. Deer hunting permits will not be issued in Ogle County as they have been in past years.

Rabbit Season Begins Nov. 22

Rabbit season begins at sunset Monday, Nov. 22, and ends at sunset Monday, Jan. 31, 1966, the Illinois Department of Conservation announced today.

Hunters may take five rabbits per day and have 10 rabbits in possession after opening day. On the first day of the season both limits are the same — five rabbits.

According to game biologists, the best rabbit hunting will be in the south central and southern Illinois year.

Stage Set For Grid Dramatics Nov. 25

The Grand Finale of area and particularly Southwest Conference football will raise its curtain Thanksgiving Day amidst backgrounds of cheering fans, proud parents, sentimental alumni and curious spectators.

The Thanksgiving Day spectacular is a week away and the stage is set. By virtue of its 24-14 win over Granite City, the Belleville Maroons will face the East St. Louis Flyers for the championship.

East St. Louis downed conference opponent Collinsville 35-0 last week and shares first place with the Maroons with identical 5-0 conference records.

Alton upset Wood River 19-13 and forced a three-way tie for third place. The Alton Redbirds, Wood River's Oilers and Granite City's Warriors all share the third spot with 3-3 records.

Collinsville, 1-5, and Edwardsville, 0-6, round out the conference standings.

The first five are over for the Maroons and the Flyers. But, as in the past, the showdown game a week from today may prove to be the best match of the season, as well as the most decisive.

Granite City Led Nine Foes in Scoring, Yardage and Fumbling

Final season statistics for the 1965 Granite City football team have been released, and the Warriors lead in all departments over their foes save three.

Although their 5-4 season record doesn't show it, the Warriors outgained, outpointed and let their nine opponents in every thing else but passing, holding onto the ball and avoiding penalties.

Granite City chalked up 89 first downs to opponents' 66, and gained 1246 yards on the ground and 532 in the air for a total offense of 1778 yards. Opponents picked up 945 on the ground and 600 in the air for a total of 1545 yards.

Granite City attempted 110 passes and connected 48 of them, while foes managed to complete only 35 out of 85. The Warriors had eight aerials intercepted, while they picked off 13 "bombs" and short passes thrown by opponents.

Five Blocked Punts — One of the defensive specialties of the Warriors was punt blocking. Led by Jerry McKeen, who stopped four this season for a two-year total of five, the Warriors blocked five opposing punts this season.

Penalties and fumbles hurt Granite City throughout the season. The Warriors lost 340 yards on penalties, while they gained only 285 on opponents' mistakes. The Warriors also lost 17 fumbles while recovering 12 bobbles from enemy ball carriers.

Rick Turner gained 329 yards in 60 tries and leads the Warriors in the most yardage gained. Leonard Revelle, who played in only four ballgames due to injuries, picked up 309 yards in 41 carries.

Gary Johnson led all Warriors scorers with 37 points, and Revelle was right behind with 36 points. Tim Hackney completed 46 of 91 passes for 564 yards.

10 Returning Lettermen Strengthen Venice Defending Champion Team

Basketball time is back again, and the Venice Red Devils will make their debut on Tuesday night, Nov. 23, with a home game against non-conference opponent Columbia.

Coach Bill Ohlendorf's crew will have 10 of its top 12 ball players back this year as it tries to keep sharp. Plus, there are to defend the conference championship some pretty good teams in this township.

Competing in the MCM Conference, the Red Devils posted a 29-5 overall and a 3-3 league mark last year to capture first place.

Ohlendorf is optimistic about his team's prospects for this season, but has some reservations concerning the first game of the season.

"Overall, we should be pretty good, but you can't tell until after the first few games," he said. "Our problem lies in our first and second games. You know, Columbia has played a couple of games and won them both, and Valmeyer has won two of its games so far. We play Valmeyer second on our schedule," he added.

Dillon and Essington Among those spotlighted on the Venice team are center Percy Dillon and guard Richard Essington. The two ball hawks were selected as members of last year's all-conference team.

Dillon, a senior who doubled as a star pitcher on Venice's 1965 fall baseball champions, led the Red Devils in scoring last winter with 478 points and a 19.1 average for the 12 conference games and 13 non-conference contests.

Essington, a junior this year, was third in team scoring with 336 points and a 14.2 average after earning a varsity spot as a freshman. This means that Essington should be back next year as well.

"We'll be more experienced this year," Ohlendorf said. The Venice men's team went on to explain that virtually the entire team has played together for a year and is used to each other's moves and playing styles.

Freeburg Holiday Tourney "Our toughest assignment of the whole season will be the Freeburg holiday tournament at Waterloo. Sixteen teams start out, and in three days, you've played so many games that it is tough to keep sharp. Plus, there are some pretty good teams in this township," Ohlendorf said. The Devils play in the Freeburg tourney Dec. 27 to Dec. 30.

Ohlendorf continued looking over the schedule and came to the last regular game of the season, "Lincoln of East St. Louis is always tough for us; they've got good teams each year. This game should be a dandy," he said.

Quite a bit of excitement is developing at Venice high school, what with the round-ball team getting spanking new uniforms, and the team defending the conference crown.

Anxious to Play Coach Ohlendorf said his boys are anxious to play ball, although several of them have hardly had a rest from the end of the fall baseball season.

The Venice basketball team includes eight basketballers who played on this fall's unbeaten team—Percy Dillon, Jerome McGlone, Bob McIntosh, Johnny Gardner, Terry Cooper, Greg Puert, Carmel Lee Chavis and Denny Hill.

But despite the strength and experience of his returning lettermen, Ohlendorf isn't counting his chickens before they hatch. "You can't tell about the season before you get into it," he said.

In other words, a team can't wait about the "season" until biting into it.

Coach Sackett's 84-14 Past Record Raising Warrior Basketball Hopes

By Press-Record Staff Photographer
COACH RALPH SACKETTMORE SPORTS
ON PAGE 34

Hope springs eternal in the hearts of Granite City high school basketball fans, and there is a widespread belief that at least some of the hopes will be realized this year.

Past seasons are behind the Warriors, who would like nothing better than to turn over a new leaf this year. Aiding them in such aspirations, they believe, will be the brand new gymnasium floor.

Also new this year is the head coach, Ralph Sackett, who almost automatically will be "on the spot" to develop a power house team. The reason why so much may be expected of him is his phenomenal success elsewhere.

Powerful Competition

However, even the most partisan fans indicate they are not expecting overnight miracles. The Southwestern Illinois Conference in which Granite City competes is one of the strongest in the state and has produced champions in such a league are not attained easily.

Sackett's teams in his four years at Octavia, Ill., just east of Bloomington, compiled a fantastic record of 84 wins against only 14 defeats. During the past four years there, he coached three regional championship teams and captured three Sangamon Valley Conference titles.

In contrast, Warrior fans have sat through a 90-93 non-loss record during the past seven seasons.

In his first year at Octavia, Sackett's team was 17-8, gaining the runner-up spot in the conference for the year 1961-62. In the 1962-63 season, Octavia was 23-2; in 1963-64, 23-2; and in 1964-65, 21-2.

Former Kahok Star

A former Collinsville Kahok basketball star, Sackett attended Illinois Wesleyan College and played football, basketball and baseball until sidelined with an injury. Reports say that his success on the baseball diamond could have won him a pro contract.

Although the move from Octavia, which has an enrollment of a little over 200, to Granite City, with an enrollment of 2600-plus, is a big step, Sackett has plans.

He indicated that he favors a deliberate style of basketball, but also would use the fast-break if the playing personnel was better suited for that approach.

Taking a leaf from the book of his old high school coach, Vergil Fletcher, Sackett said that he likes to emphasize a few basic patterns that can be well-executed, rather than teaching many that might not be learned so well.

Coordinate Program

One of his primary objectives, besides giving the Warriors winning seasons, will be the coordinating of basketball throughout the school system, beginning about the third grade.

A mathematics teacher at the high school, Sackett has used some of his football coaching experience to help the 1965 football Warriors as a major member of the scouting team. To add to his credits, he has helped to conduct a college basketball program in recent summers.

Add all of the factors together—new coach, new maple edge grain playing surface and previous season excitement—and what do you have? The makings of an interesting and promising basketball season at Granite City high school.

DAVID WHITECOTTON poses with a 10-point white tailed buck his father, Alvin Whitecotton, killed in Texas county, Mo., Tuesday. The deer was sired on the second day of the season and weighed 168 pounds field dressed. The Whitecottons live at 2529 Center street.

Steve Johnson
Named to All
State Grid Team

Granite City's Steve Johnson has received honorable mention in the Champaign-Urbana News-Gazette's all-state football team for 1965.

Johnson, a senior tackle, played on both offense and defense for the Warriors, but during the latter part of the season Coach Jim Morrison used him strictly for offensive chores.

Clyde Kuehn, Belleville's outstanding ball carrier, and Tom Bayless, a fullback who has seen mostly defensive action this year, were named to the all-state team.

Wood River end Chuck Calcutt and East St. Louis' Bill Skyles also were given honorable mention.

'Champ' Summers
Gets Guard Spot
At Nicholls State

John "Champ" Summers, former ace basketballer at Madison high school is going through drills in preparation for Nicholls State College's (Thibodaux, La.) 1965-66 home opener against Henderson (Ark.) State Teachers College Friday.

Summers, as a freshman last year, led the Colonels varsity team in almost every department, including scoring.

Summers will be starting at one guard spot while the other will be filled by Jack Barton of Crystal City, Mo. Phil Driskill of Columbia and Rick Moore of St. Louis, both freshmen, are expected to see action.

Madison Trounces
Prather JHS, 47-16

Madison junior high's basketball team held a 23-1 halftime lead and went on to win over Prather's eighth graders 47-16 at Prather Tuesday night.

Despite a third and fourth quarter rally by Prather in which the team netted seven and eight points, respectively, Madison scored 11 and 13 points in the third and fourth periods of play.

Prather, playing its first game of the season, is 0-1.

Lack Depth

The 1965 Illinois state wrestling champions of Granite City high school are preparing for another rigorous season.

Coach Bill Schmitt, who will be honored tonight at the annual Elks Sports Award dinner in 35 Illinois, reports that his squad lacks depth, especially in the upper weight divisions.

Schmitt said that from the 145-pound division on up, there are only five boys competing for the four heavier weight classes.

He added that in the past, Granite City has always had good wrestlers in the smaller weight divisions, but with the exception of John Evenden of last year and certain other top wrestlers, the squad has lacked outstanding grapplers in the bigger weight classes.

The Warrior wrestlers begin their season with a home dual match against Waukegan Dec. 3.

Negotiators Meet
In Power Strike

Negotiators of Union Electric Co. and the Operating Engineers Union, Local 48, were meeting again today in the U. S. Mediation Service offices, St. Louis, in an effort to settle contract issues involved in the strike of 1200 workers. Three hundred of the union members are on strike at the Venice steam plant.

A negotiation session was held Wednesday and lasted throughout the day. Thomas Brennan, U. S. conciliator for the Mediation Service, said today there was "no comment" on details of the meeting. Today's session convened at 10 a.m. in the federal building at St. Louis. Major issues in the dispute is mode of hiring employees for the company's new plant being constructed at Alton Lake.

New Book Written
By Dr. David M. Reimers

A new book by Dr. David Morgan Reimers, "White Protestants and the Negro," is being placed on display at the Granite City public library, it was announced this week.

Brooklyn University professor is a nephew of Charles Reimers and Mrs. Henry Luedtke, who is the son of Mrs. Arthur Reimers, St. Louis, formerly of Granite City. Both his maternal and paternal grandparents were Granite Cityans.

criminal case. With our working staff it is almost impossible to get this work load done now," Clifford went on.

The inequities of the present system are such, Clifford noted, that a building permit fee for an average house (whether it is $3000 or $30,000) is $26, while at the present time a commercial building costing $200,000 is under construction in Godfrey, for which the permit fee was only $40.

The base fee for an average house under the new system, Clifford explained, would be $46 with an upward scale applied.

He said that at present building fees are "paying the cost for zoning. Zoning is not paying its own way."

After several supervisors mentioned there preference of laying the proposal over for action in the next meeting, Clifford said his office would like to have a decision immediately so that he can go before the finance committee to plead for a higher 1966 budget. Passage of the proposal next month would be too late for him to do so.

Moves For Delay
Robert M. Miller of Alton then moved to delay action on the program until next meeting, with Straube withdrawing his original motion for passage. Board Chairman Harold Landolt of Alhambra was unable to rule on an aye and nay vote and called for a roll call on the motion to defer action. A simple majority was required to carry. The vote was 18 in favor of delaying action and 28 against.

The motion then was put to pass the proposed new fee schedule which was set up in the form of amendments. Amendments to an ordinance require a two-thirds majority vote for passage.

With 44 voting supervisors present, not including the chairman who does not vote except in case of a tie, the subsequent roll call vote was 29 in favor of passage of the new fee schedule—15 against. Since two-thirds of 44 voting members is 29, passage of the amendments was declared lost by one-third of a vote.

No indication was given following the meeting as to whether or not the proposal will be presented again in a different form.

Alton Man Named County President For EOC Program

James M. Bailey, an Alton aid-erman and assistant high school principal, was appointed president of the Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission, at a meeting Monday night in Edwardsville.

The commission also approved a preliminary draft of the county's project development application for $65,070 in federal funds and rejected a proposed merger with Macoupin county anti-poverty groups due to legal technicalities.

Bailey, who has been serving as acting commission chairman since the resignation of George E. Moore, Sr., of Granite City last month, was the unanimous choice of all three major groups involved in the county's EOC program. He will complete the unexpired portion of Moore's 12-month term.

The commission seated on the executive board Floyd Gallinger, president of the Alton-Wood River Economic Opportunity Council; J. Alan Gardner, president of the Tri-Cities Economic Opportunity Council; and James Hampton, a member of the latter group.

Bailey said of the total $75,070 grant application, the county group will provide $6700 in "in-kind" services, such as donations of office space, equipment, local supervisory help or supplies. He added that the executive board will meet Monday to discuss var-

29 Complete Standard Course in First-Aid

Twenty-nine persons, including auxiliary police, civil defense staff members and bus drivers, completed a five-week standard first-aid course Tuesday night at the Madison recreation center and qualified for certificates. The group was taught by Euell Mann, Red Cross and Madison CD first-aid instructor.

Participants were Janet Werner, Winnie Sasyk, Rose Lawrence, Gloria Cook, Burel Schmissser, Earl Trebing, Eileen Bradley, Martin Arbeiter, Jacqueline Affeldt, Mary Cardin, Viola Cox, E. L. Humphreys, Geraldine Cooper, Terry Gushoff, Anna Mae Bittick, Pearlina Sasyk, Leslie Skelly, Mae Hendrickson, Thelma Skelly, Jewell Jones, Jackie Frizzell, Florence Durer, Gloria Chappell, Elaine Chappell, Naomi Cordell, Bernadine Weidner, J. W. Latham, Norma Latham and Donna Chappell. Additional first-aid courses are planned after the first of the year.

Contributions needed for this portion of the program. Final approval from the 100-member commission will be sought at a meeting Nov. 29, in the board of supervisors room, Edwardsville, with the application to be sent to the Chicago Regional Office of Economic Opportunity by early December.

Bailey pointed out that before the new project application is submitted to federal authorities, request for funds made earlier this year by the Alton-Wood River and Tri-Cities groups will be withdrawn.

Mayor Appeals to Absentee Owners To 'Spruce Up'

Mayor Partney this week directed his appeal for beautification of the city to absentee owners of local property.

"Creating an awareness of beauty on the local level is not difficult since we work with few citizens," the mayor said. "The biggest problem in beautification arises over the absentee owner."

"You may be a wise businessman who resides outside the city but sees the great potential in Granite City. You invest in granite city buildings and property but then neglect your holdings, figuring it is wiser to write them off as a tax loss."

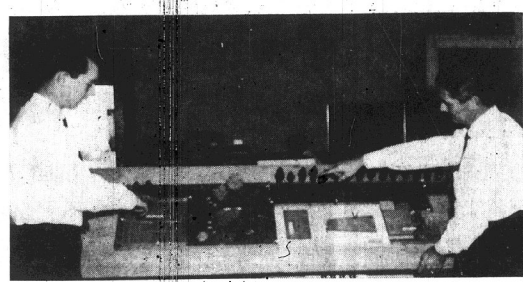

Compliment No More

"We here in Granite City have been complacent about unsightly vacant lots and unused buildings in our city for years."

"We are tired of looking at your ugly 'family skeletons.' Help us make our city realize years from now when it may be its potential this year — not too late."

"Give your property a face-lifting now."

"If everyone cooperates," the mayor said, "the value of your property will increase a great deal above the cost of the improvements, and your efforts will help us all."

PADDLERS $73,600 EXPANSION project is pointed out by A. J. Mueller, a director of the non-profit swim club, while Paul Halbert, who served as assistant pool manager for the 1964 season, points out the new hard surface tennis courts. A second swimming pool, shown vertically in the center, also will be added. The model was constructed by Ronald Ward, Coolidge junior high school art teacher.

Paddlers to Add Second Pool, Tennis Courts

An estimated $73,600 expansion project, including construction of a second 25-meter swimming pool and hard surface tennis courts, was announced Monday night by stockholders of Paddlers' Swim Club, Inc. The project, expected to get under way immediately, is scheduled for completion by the 1966 swimming season.

In other business, the members witnessed burning the mortgage which represented $91,118 expended in establishing the local private swim club, started ten years ago. Francis E. McBride, who with the late Mrs. Vera McBride was a great instrumental in forming the nucleus planning group, assisted in the mortgage burning ceremony.

New directors elected for three year terms, included Mrs. Jeanette Beatty and McBride, and incumbents, Mrs. Mary Jesse, Homer Johnson and Al Maletski. The five join present board members, A. J. Mueller Jr., Mrs. Vivyan Durbin, Andrew Gitchoff, Mrs.

Mary Earls, Elmer Miller, Eynon Dunn, Joseph Barberi, planner Blumentstock, Louis Bisco and Mickey Loftus.

More than 90 persons attended the annual stockholders meeting, resulting in spirited exchanges on the subject of by-law revisions and the expansion project. Paddlers' president Homer Johnson presided and reports were presented by membership, financial and operational executives.

In explaining the expansion proposal, Keith Parker, pool manager, and Mickey Loftus, chairman of a special planning committee, said the overall program will include construction of a 18x48-foot swimming pool, graduated in depth from 30 inches at either end to a five-foot center depth.

Estimated to cost $38,000, the new rectangular pool is comparable in size to the present 25-meter pool, Parker said. He added that the diving area will be retained in the old pool, due to its 13-foot depth at the narrow end, while the shallower portion could be used with greater safety by the younger children.

The new facility, Parker continued, will prove beneficial to the competitive swim team and general swimmers alike, as the second pool will eliminate the need to close the facilities during swim meets, practice sessions, or for private parties.

In addition to the pool construction project, a completely new filter system will be installed, calculated to serve both pools. Also planned is a double size hard surface tennis and volleyball courts and other recreational facilities, such as horseshoe pits and shuffleboard courts.

Landscape the picnic area, black-topping parking surface, enlarging and improving bathhouse facilities and complete fencing of the 2½-acre property tract to eliminate vandalism, also are included in the expansion and beautification program.

Plans for financing the venture are incomplete at the present time, it was suggested that stock sales be increased to 499 shares. Presently, the club has 395 member families, with a limit of 400 members.

Johnson said, club directors do not plan to raise the annual dues from the present $30 per family seasonal cost. He later called a special board meeting for this evening to discuss financial arrangements and construction estimates. Also serving on the planning committee were Parker and Loftus were A. J. Mueller Jr. and Clarence Etheridge.

In a report of the 1965 season, Parker said 14,392 swimmers had used the pool as compared to 12,000 in 1964. Adult attendance definitely increased, he said, adding the installation of a patio roof provided welcome shade and encouraged non-swimmers to visit the pool.

Within a three-week period, Parker continued, 212 pupils were enrolled in swimming classes; 26 received a senior life-saving instruction and 30 participated in a junior life-saving program. A total of 117 youngsters completed the ten-week competitive swim team program, the pool manager said, and 615 swimmers were involved in the two-day conference meet held in August.

It was suggested by Parker that adult activities be increased with the expanded facilities, with

The intersection at 22nd street and Lee avenue was flooded shortly after 8 a.m. today when a fire hydrant was broken off as a result of a two-car accident.

Injured in the crash was George A. Hopkins, 54, of 2640 State street, whose auto was knocked into the hydrant by an auto driven by Aaron S. Klein, 25, of Trenton, Ill. Police charged Klein with failure to observe a stop sign.

The officers said Klein was traveling west and struck the left side of Hopkins' auto, causing it to spin into the hydrant. Claar Lerner, eight, son of William H. Lerner, 1651 Maple street, suffered minor injuries when he was struck by a car driven by Louise A. Fisher, 2714 N. Elmwood road, at 4:35 p.m. Monday at Niedringhaus avenue and Maple street. Police said the driver of the car was struck by a dart between two parked cars, causing a basketball and in front of the auto.

Funeral arrangements are given in today's obituary column.

He told authorities they apparently believed he was dead.

He said he had been taken to the Sportsman's club on Highway 111 and then to Leg & Jennie's tavern, 5000 Lakeview drive, for several drinks.

He refused hospital treatment, telling deputies his wife would care for him.

Smith said the two were casual clothing. One was described as being five feet, nine inches tall, weighing 145 pounds, with dark hair and wearing a jacket. The other was described as being short, weighing 165 pounds and having light hair.

Means was slugged by a robber who hid in his station and took a large quantity of money from the alderman.

State Capitol NEWS

Water Supply Good

Despite a dry October, water supply conditions at the beginning of November are excellent throughout most of Illinois, William C. Ackerman, chief of the Illinois State Water Survey, reports.

October gave rain totals of less than 50% of normal in much of the state. Highest area average was 1.9 inches in east-central counties, one inch below normal. Lowest average, in western Illinois, was only 0.6 inch, 2.1 inches below normal.

"However, the momentum from excessive rain in August and September has carried water supplies through in good condition, and the dry weather is welcomed by farmers to complete fall harvesting," Ackerman said.

Waterfowl Bands Important

William T. Lodge, director of the Illinois Department of Conservation, has asked for the cooperation of hunters who bag bandwaterfowl.

"Information vital to the waterfowl management program is obtained from the leg bands placed on ducks and geese by state and federal conservation agencies," Lodge said.

"If a hunter who shoots a banded duck or goose wishes to retain the band as a souvenir, he may do so, but he should mail the band number and information telling where and when the bird was taken, to the address given on each band."

Anti-Crime Legislation

New anti-crime legislation was passed by Acting Gov. Edgar H. Shapiro in a speech delivered last week before the Central Zone Conference of the Law Enforcement Intelligence Unit.

In the last six years Illinois has made significant inroads in the war against crime and in improving the administration of justice, Shapiro said.

More than 30 bills dealing with crime were introduced and passed during the last legislative session. This, added Gov. Shapiro, "gives us good reason to be optimistic about the future of the most anti-crime conscious in many years."

Oil Well Permits

The Illinois Division of Oil and Gas issued 222 permits during October. L. Ruff, director of the Illinois Department of Mines and Minerals, said last week.

There were 176 oil well permits and 146 other permits, compared with 185 oil well permits and 146 other permits issued during October 1964.

Permits were classified as follows: Pool-124, wildcat-32, water-input-34, salt water disposal-14, structure test-28, water supply-3, observation-8, air input-2.

Bird Hunting Seasons

Pheasant and Hungarian-partridge season will end at sunset Sunday, Dec. 12, the Illinois Department of Conservation has announced.

Hunters may take two cock pheasants a day and have four in possession after opening day. The daily bag limit for partridge is two per day and four in possession after opening day.

Quail season ends at sunset Sunday, Dec. 26. The daily limit is eight quail and the possession limit is 16 after opening day. The possession limit for all species is the same as the bag limit on opening day. Hunting hours are from noon to sunset on the first day of the season and from sunrise to sunset after opening day.

Indications are that hunters will not see as many pheasants as they did last year, but the quail population is equal to last year's crop. Partridge numbers are estimated to be as high as last year.

Governor's Christmas Party

The Governor's Christmas party for children will be Saturday, Dec. 18, at the Illinois State Armory in Springfield. In recent years the party has attracted an estimated 5000 or more youngsters for an entertainment program and distribution of gifts.

The last negotiation session was held Monday afternoon, at which time the deadlock developed over the dismissal issue set up in the new company offer.

In addition to the craft realignment dispute, which has held up progress since beginning of negotiations, and now the dismissal proposal, the matter of wages and grievance procedure, both union issues, also remain to be settled.

Zoning Changes, Special Uses Ok'd By County Board

Recommendations by the Madison county zoning Board of Appeals for the granting of three special use permits and the rezoning of two tracts of land—all in the QuadCity area—were confirmed Tuesday by the county board of supervisors in regular meeting at Edwardsville.

Supervisors also approved the zoning board's recommendation that another plea for a special use permit be denied. Five of the six parcels of land involved are in Nameoki township and the sixth lies partly in Nameoki and partly in Chouteau townships.

Among rezoning pleas granted through the board's approving action were two separate applications filed by Mike Sasek and Kelly Dutko, owners of record, to rezone two tracts of land from an A (Agriculture) district to R-5, a multiple family district for National Heights subdivision in Nameoki township.

Use permits approved included the petition of Alene C. Tenner, owner of record, for permission to establish a mobile home park in a B-3 (Highway Business) district in Nameoki township. The board also confirmed zoning board approval of a petition by Barry A. Hart, petitioner, and Charles A. Fulkerson, owner of record, for permission to set a mobile home on a lot in an R-2 (One-Family Residence district) in Nameoki township.

The other use permit was granted on petition of Calvin P. Tolbert, owner of record, to rebuild a house located in an M-2 (General Manufacturing District) in both Nameoki and Chouteau townships.

Denied by the zoning board, and upheld by the supervisors, was a petition for a special use permit by Charles E. Moutell, owner of record, for operation of a grocery store and beauty shop, with apartments above, in Nameoki township.

Council to Act Next Week

Another Try to Hire 2 Street Workers—Both Sides Claim Victory

Legal opinions flew thick and fast from various sources Monday night as Granite City council members and Mayor Partney engaged in two lengthy debates over the hiring of two men as replacements for the street department.

The arguments went so far as to pinpoint a definition of the word "consent" in a city ordinance—and there was a parable by the mayor implying that some aldermen were being led down the primrose path.

Both sides are claiming victory. The mayor convinced the council that its action of two weeks ago instructing Street Supt. Warfield to hire the two replacement men was out of order and that the mayor alone has authority to hire city employees.

However, the opposing side now has the proper method to proceed and plan a resolution for the next council session calling for the hiring of the two men, with applicants to be interviewed by the Personnel committee and the mayor do the actual hiring with the "consent" of the council.

Procedure Outlined
The procedure was outlined at least six times by City Atty. Allen, who has as large a speaking role in the debates as many of the aldermen as he was repeatedly called upon for opinions.

With the replacements, the street department will have 25 men. The city has budgeted salaries for 25 street workers. The motion by Alderman Nann two weeks ago was vetoed by Mayor Partney, and it was Nann who led the attack Monday night, calling for reconsideration of the motion over the mayor's veto.

Nann ruled that the mayor had waited too long in presenting his veto to the city clerk on Nov. 10. "Five days is the limit," he said, and the motion was made Nov. 11, Nann proclaimed.

The mayor was ready and had City Atty. Allen read the section of city law giving the mayor until the next regular council session to submit a veto. In addition, the mayor sent letters to each alderman advising of his veto. His reason was for economy measures, and he pointed out that street department layoffs in the winter have been a past practice.

In the notification to the clerk, Partney, quoted extensively the state and city laws which empower the mayor to hire. The mayor pointed out the original motion of Nov. 1 was improper and that the veto actually was not needed.

Original Motion Improper

As aldermen pushed to override the veto, Partney repeatedly pointed out that since the council passed the motion on Nov. 1 had been improper, the veto was not necessary and to override it would be meaningless.

While no vote was taken to override the veto, the council later did vote 12-3 for Bartosiak's motion to have a resolution prepared for re-establishing the street department strength at 25 men.

The mayor gave no indication if he would veto such a resolution.

For preparation of the resolution were Aldermen Nann, Whitmer, Bartosiak, Johnson, Boyd, Dallas, Moerlein, Thompson, Farley, Robertson, Poulos and Green. Opposed were Rulledge, Sternberg and Fry. Alderman Basarich was absent.

First Debate

The initial debate on the issue was early in the meeting as the mayor's veto letter and the letter quoting state and city laws on his authority were read.

Nann immediately called for reconsideration of his motion for the street superintendent to do the hiring.

"You'll have to change the city law then," Mayor Partney advised.

Robertson called for an opinion from Allen, and the attorney pointed out the superintendent of streets has no authority to hire.

Allen said the veto had been unnecessary since the original motion for the hiring was invalid. "Any motion to override the veto would be meaningless," the lawyer said, adding that the only way the council could order the street superintendent to hire workers would be to change the city law.

Deferral Ignored

Robertson then asked for deferral of any further action until the attorney submitted a written opinion.

No one seconded his motion, as council members wanted to press the debate. Johnson took the floor next, and when City Clerk Homer Pendleton turned on the switch to operate a recording machine on his desk, the alderman fired a protest.

He demanded to know whose machine it was and why it was there. Pendleton explained he had borrowed it to try it out to aid his recording of the council sessions.

Taking advantage of the interval, Mayor Partney inserted his story of the goat Judas that he had seen years ago at the stockyards.

Partney related that the goat was trained to lead sheep to the slaughter room. "He would pass through each time unscathed, but the sheep would be slaughtered, then Judas would go back for more sheep."

Whitmer called for more detailed meaning of the mayor's story, but the mayor commented only that he had made his point.

Johnson then continued asking that if the street superintendent had no authority to hire did the power rest with the council?

Quotes Law Again
"Not according to the law," Partney replied.

Bartosiak quoted the city code giving the council authority to override a veto with a two-thirds vote.

Atty. Allen repeated that the action of overriding the veto was unnecessary.

Nann then expounded a theory of city government.

"We make the laws," he said, "and the mayor is only the moderator of the meetings. When we're in session, we're the boss. The rest of the time the mayor is, and if the council instructs the street superintendent to hire, put this letter of the mayor's on file and go on with the motion to reconsider." Nann told the council.

Partney replied that the city law would have to be changed to proceed in such a manner.

Entering the debate, Alderman Moerlein, a former mayor, said the council has no authority to delegate state statutes delegating certain powers to a mayor. "If we have no law stipulating such a procedure for hiring, we can't supersede the state laws until we have such city ordinances."

"I agree with the mayor in the position he has taken, but not in his attitude," Moerlein added.

Second Debate
The council then voted to place the mayor's veto letter on file and proceeded to other business before re-entering the debate about an hour later, when Bartosiak called for a reconsideration of the issue.

"There's nothing to reconsider," Partney remarked.

"You'll have to change the law to give the street superintendent authority to hire."

Bartosiak protested that the mayor could use the same procedure in vetoing other council action.

"This could result in one-man rule if we can't override a veto," Whitmer commented. "We might as well all stay home and not attend the sessions."

Partney again repeated the council would have to change the city ordinance.

Boyd joined in saying he was going to argue procedure.

Atty. Allen again repeated the procedure and was called upon to read directly from the city code and state statutes. He added that the council should carry on as in the past in filling positions.

It was Boyd who called for a definition of the word "consent" in the city code which states that the mayor is to hire employees with the consent of the council.

Allen re-explained that after the Personnel committee makes its recommendations, the mayor does the hiring subject to approval by the council.

Powerless Body?
"Are we a powerless body, then?" Boyd asked. The mayor answered, "Ge whiz, no. You're the most powerful in the city."

Moerlein again entered the debate. "We've done a lot of arguing and it's irritating. It's unnecessary to override the veto. The motion to hire was illegal and the law must be changed if the council wants to add to the street department."

Supt. Warfield was given permission to speak and explained that he never did have authority to hire. He said the council had always done the hiring before and that he merely went to the hall to get the men. "I need these replacement men badly," he told council members.

The debate continued for a few moments more before the motion was made for preparation of a resolution to be submitted next week to direct the hiring of two men for the street department.

The procedure will be for applicants to be interviewed by the Personnel committee headed by Alderman Thompson, and for the mayor to hire the men based on the recommendation and with the council's consent.

CORN DRYING ABC'S

The ABC's of corn drying are outlined in a new University of Illinois circular written to help farmers select and operate grain drying equipment.

Granite City PRESS-RECORD

Page 14 Thurs., Nov. 18, 1965

the farm driers in 1964.

The U. of I. specialists note that field shelling and mechanical drying have many advantages and also some disadvantages when compared with ear corn harvest. Advantages are reduced field losses, early harvest, less space needed for storage, and lower storage costs. Also, shelled corn is ready for market without additional processing.

Possibly the major disadvantage of drying shelled corn is that it requires careful supervision and mechanical knowledge. Farmers using a drier for the first time may not be familiar with the technical relationships that are involved. They have learn by experience, possibly at the expense of underdrying, overdrying or overheating the grain.

"Drying Shelled Corn" was written to help farmers avoid some of the pitfalls they might normally encounter in buying grain. They also give tips for installing and operating a new grain-drying system. The booklet discusses and compares the costs of the four basic drying systems and gives pointers on how to select office. Ask for Circular 918.

In a section entitled "Management Know-how," the authors discuss moisture testing, recommended drying temperatures and storage time for high-moisture grain. They also give tips for insect storage-drying.

Farmers who would like a copy of "Drying Shelled Corn" can get one from the farm adviser's list with the Illinois Natural History Survey and the University of Illinois.

Traps are inexpensive and easy to place, and the mice can be disposed of so they will leave no odor in the house.

The best bait? It isn't cheese. Peanut butter mixed with a little rancid bacon grease has a fatal attraction for mice. If a mouse doesn't spring the trap, use a small piece of bacon or a raisin to the treadle with a thread, advises Sanderson.

Anticoagulants are red-squill-type poisons only if trapping doesn't control the invaders. Some anticoagulants contain an antibacterial agent that keeps rats or mice from building up vitamin K as an antidote. In the past, some mice were resistant to anticoagulants because of the high level of vitamin K produced by bacteria in their digestive tracts.

Outside the house, Sanderson suggests cleaning up and "mouse-proofing" the premises. In out-buildings where odor is not a problem, use poisons, preferably anticoagulants, placed 5 to 12 feet apart. Mice travel only short distances. Cover bait stations to protect the poison from rain and pets.

Anticoagulants kill mice and rats with no pain. But they must eat the bait for 3 to 14 days before it will kill them.

GREATER ROOT GROWTH FOR TRANSPLANTED TREES

The best time to transplant trees and shrubs depends on the care you are willing to give.

Except for a few species, such as magnolia, mountain ash and other thin-barked trees, the fall is the best time to transplant. Since trees will make some root growth now, then the tree will be ready for growth in early spring. Most landscape men plant trees and shrubs, bare-root, in the fall after the plants are dormant and in the spring before new growth starts. Bare-root material takes more care in watering for a longer period than plant material that is balled and burlapped.

When transplanting bare-root stock, be sure to prune the top growth back to compensate for the reduction in root system.

One of the biggest mistakes the average person makes in transplanting is to take care of trees and shrubs after transplanting. The average tree or shrub needs supplemental watering for two years after transplanting before it can withstand any extended dry periods.

MISCELLANEOUS DATA

Favorable weather this fall has helped increase the amount of soil conservation work by Madison county farmers. An example is a drop box installation by Melvin Koelz of Helvetia township that provides an outlet to a culvert under a bridge for water runoff from a grass waterway.

Another is a long diversion terrace on the farm of Adolph Dalber, St. Jacob township, that directs the flow of surface water from a large acreage previously threatened by a gully spreading through the field.

Forty Madison county dairymen have enrolled in the dairy school in December. Three all-day sessions will be held on consecutive Tuesdays, Dec. 7, 14 and 21. Other dairymen interested should send in their names to the farm adviser's office.

A number of reports of high corn yields have been received. Highest so far is 172 bushels per acre in a field grown by Herbert Brase of Harnett township.

Farmers and landowners are reminded to order trees from state nurseries for planting next spring. Order blanks and price lists are available at the farm adviser's office.

Fish from the State Department of Conservation for stocking farm ponds were recently secured by 24 county landowners.

Now is the time to mark those low-yielding spots in your fields—while their location is still fresh in your mind. Poor drainage, low fertility, thin topsoil, sandy spots, and even slick spots can occur. You can't beat all of these profit-robbing, but you can switch many over to money-makers by pinpointing and correcting the faults.

Wet spots are probably the most common problem, particularly where water ponds after spring and summer rains. Yields can be cut to nothing if the water stands long. Nitrogen shortages occurred in spots this year—even in fields that had liberal nitrogen fertilization. You'll see this evidence most often in spots where water ponded. Other spots, particularly on hillsides or sloping areas, may be short of topsoil due to erosion. Winter and spring rains washed away a lot of topsoil this year. If your topsoil is thin on slopes or tops of rises, you'll need to use more fertilizer to get good crop yields.

MORE ABOUT Bail Bond

plans to appeal, the court can order the original bond to stand, deny bond, increase it or reduce it, the judge said.

Processing fees. Fines, court costs and other fees in a proceeding can be taken from the defendant's cash deposit before it is refunded, the judge said. He added that clerks may charge a $2 fee for processing bonds, and that additional fees of $3 for recording a property bond and $2 for releasing it will be charged.

The 10% cash deposits will not apply to cases in the family division of circuit court as in non-support or child abandonment, Judge Clark added. The full bond must be posted.

Circuit Clerk Willard Potell, who has been in charge of the bail bond business since the full bond must be posted, pointed out a State Supreme Court rule on bonding relating to traffic and quasi-criminal cases in which full bonds are required. This mainly applies to cases where driver's licenses are suspended or where traffic and misdemeanor charges.

The regulations were adopted by the Madison and Bond county circuit in accordance with the 1965 legislative amendments to the criminal code and decisions by the State Supreme Court and U.S. Gen. William G. Clark.

"Pay-by-Mail" Plan

Portell also reported that a "pay-by-mail" plan of remitting fines in traffic violation cases, introduced on a trial basis in the Quad-Cities area, will be extended to other parts of the circuit soon.

It permits persons issued traffic tickets by state or local police to pay them by mail to the circuit clerk's office to avoid the necessity of appearing before a magistrate.

Envelopes for the fines will be given to motorists in the normal time of violations as speeding, stop lights and right-of-way. He said the convenience would save time and trouble for everyone concerned. Only two have been received at the local magistrate's office in a 10-day period.

During the meeting, attended by 62 persons, Portell announced the appointment of Michael Henkhaus of Bepko as chief clerk in charge of the criminal and bonding divisions of the office. He has been in charge of criminal cases.

Impressions of Survey

Having made a two-week survey in Guinea last August, Martinkevich said, "The government of Guinea has asked the U. S. to set up three maintenance centers in the country and staff them with trained mechanics."

"On my survey I found a lot of inoperative equipment and plenty of spare parts in the country, but no trained mechanics to repair the equipment. We will fill this gap by repairing the equipment initially and training mechanics."

"With equipment, the country can repair and build badly needed roads. Lacking the transportation problem will provide impetus to both industry and agriculture which can then ship goods and raw materials where and when needed in the country."

The Peace Corps volunteers, equally enthusiastic, will leave about Feb. 15. While in Guinea, they will receive $75 a month, a subsistence pay of about $135 a month. While there they will face difficult situations, some hardships and possible dangers.

Principles of Volunteers

Kenneth Larrick, 21, of Bladen, Neb., says "The training will help me get a job someday. I'm looking forward to the experience of two years overseas, but most of all I want to help others. It's a great program."

Joseph Boggs, 24, of Allu Bridge, Kan., who completed three years in the Army, said "I love mechanics. I want to travel and I like to help people. Both Paul Grigori, 46, and his wife, Vivian, are going along. I am a mechanic, she is a medic in the armed forces, Paul, an Air Force second lieutenant, and Mike, a corporal in the paratroopers."

Grigori, summing up his reasons for joining the Peace Corps, said "If we can do over there, and a good job for the people of Guinea, then our boys won't have to do the job over there."

King Named to Sales Post with Hubbell Metals

Ronald M. King of Godfrey has been appointed a sales representative in the St. Louis district office of Hubbell Metals Inc., it was announced this week by Homer C. Eggers, district manager. Hubbell Metals operates a plant in the Granite City Industrial Center.

"King, a native of Norwood, Mass., was a catcher on a Yale baseball team for two years and also played with the Brooklyn Dodgers farm club for a year."

Work Force at GC Steel Mill Cut By 711 Workers

A moderation in business volume has resulted in a reduction of more than 700 employees of the Granite City Steel Co. work force, it was learned today. The cutbacks have occurred from week to week since Sept. 30, according to a company spokesman.

Officials were quick to point out, however, that while work force reductions were due to a slackening of business conditions, "business is still very good." The cutbacks they said were due to a leveling off of extremely high and somewhat inflated business conditions that prevailed during the first nine months of the year.

Employment and production at Granite City Steel during the summer months reached an all-time peak, it was said, with an average working force of around 5300 persons, including temporary help. At one point during the summer period, the average number of persons on the payroll totaled 5670.

Reduction in the work force started the latter part of September when the payroll showed 5022 persons working. On Oct. 10 the working force was reduced to 4830, and by Oct. 31 to 4673. As of last Monday the work force totaled 4311.

One spokesman said that part of the cutback may be attributed to the fact that one of the mill's two blast furnaces is down for relining. A pickup in employment is expected after completion of the work late this year.

The normal work force at the steel plant, when all furnaces are operating, ranges from 4000 to 5100 persons, the spokesman added, pointing out that the work force may vary 200 to 300 persons from week to week, depending upon the type of operations.

Meanwhile the company has signed a new contract with the Blacksmiths' Union, which has 17 employees in the mill. New contracts also are being negotiated with the Hod Carriers Union, the Bricklayers Union, and the Plant Police Guard Union.

New contracts with these unions were to be negotiated following settlement of contract issues for United Steelworkers of America members who form the bulk of the work force at the mill. All of the contracts were extended from varying expiration dates last summer.

Rotary Club Sees Film on Hospital Disaster Drill

Emergency procedures at St. Elizabeth Hospital were outlined by Mrs. Marietta Daniels, director of nurses, who was the guest of Granite City Rotarians Tuesday at their weekly luncheon meeting in the YMCA.

Bernard Pinney, hospital personnel director, introduced the speaker, who narrated a film made by the local hospital staff during the 1964 disaster exercise. The movie illustrated dramatically the care and emergency operating room procedures used in the hospital's disaster program.

Victims of a simulated explosion were portrayed by Granite City high school students. A similar successful drill was held last month, Mrs. Daniels said.

William Hodebecke, club president, was in charge of the business meeting and welcomed Bobby Joe Davis, administrative assistant to Supt. of Schools Russell E. Johnson, who was initiated as a new member.

In connection with a current attendance drive, it was announced that five of six competing teams reported 100% at attendance figures at the previous meeting.

William Thoeke, chairman of the 1966 Rotary show, announced a meeting of his committee would be held.

Informal round-table discussions will be featured in next week's program, arranged by Col. Charles B. Schweitzer. The local Army installation commander will have as his guests several military personnel who recently have returned from duty in Vietnam.

Maynard Smith in Vietnam To Get ARC Talking Letter

Christmas in Vietnam promises to be a little less lonely for Specialist Four Maynard H. Smith when he hears the voices of his German-born wife, Helga, and three young sons, Paul, six years, Robert, four, and two-year-old James.

The family first returned to the U.S. in 1959 and was at Fort Eustis, Va., and Fort Gordon, Ga. Two years later, Smith was re-assigned to Germany, where they stayed until coming here in June 1964.

Mrs. Smith, whose accent is almost undetectable, began to study English as a fifth grade student, a fact she has never regretted. She was one of the first persons to take advantage of the Red Cross "talking letter" program.

In the recording, Paul, who is in the first grade at Emerson school, suggested his father might bring him home a tent, tank, helmet or gun, while four-year-old Robert informed his daddy that he received a book at Sunday school and next year he plans to enter kindergarten.

The only words coaxed from James, two years, was "I love you daddy," Mrs. Smith said, which he followed with a large embracing kiss on the microphone. All their comments will be treasured by their father, she added.

Now stationed at a large supply center located 180 miles northeast of Saigon, Sp4 Smith, a 13-year Army veteran, is working as a heavy equipment maintenance mechanic. His family has lived at 2237 Delmar avenue since coming to Granite City 15 months ago.

Mr. Smith, an only child whose parents still live in Frankfurt, considers himself fortunate to live next door to another German war bride, Mrs. Elizabeth Messerschmidt, a local resident for 14 years. The two women attend Peace Lutheran Church on Stratford lane where last Sunday Mrs. Smith was accepted as a church member. The family first returned to this country in 1959 and was at Fort Eustis, Va., and Fort Gordon, Ga. Two years later, Smith was re-assigned to Germany, where they stayed until coming here in June 1964.

Bill List for City Amounts to $27,029

The city's two-week bill list totaled $27,029 as approved Monday night by Granite City council members.

Largest item on the list was $20,165 paid to Midwest Talking Roads, Inc., for 3748 tons of arterial street aggregate. A. H. Seibold Co. was paid $1482 for 92 cubic yards of ready-mix concrete, and rental of equipment by the street department.

The only allowance on the two-page bill list was $100 for car expense and administration costs for Victor Koenig, Civil defense director.

C. L. Crawford, the city's traffic engineer, was paid $783 for services during October.

Red Cross Chapter Service

Tips Given for Talking Yule Letters to Servicemen

Keep messages to servicemen overseas cheerful and newsworthy are two suggestions offered to local relatives, who record "Christmas Talking Letters," at the American Red Cross office, 2035 State street. The annual recording project, provided free of charge, will continue through Dec. 17, it was announced by Mrs. Ruby Overbeck, executive director of the ARC Tri-City chapter.

Relatives of servicemen overseas may record a 15-minute conversation between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m., Monday through Friday at the local office, 2035 State street.

In addition, hours will be extended until 8:30 p.m. Friday, Dec. 3, and the office will remain open on Saturday, Dec. 4, from 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Mrs. Overbeck said the latter date is the last day for the free recording service.

Packaging Furnished

The executive director explained that the Red Cross provides a suitable envelope and packing material. The sender is only asked to mail the recording, which usually requires an eight-cent airmail postage stamp.

Mrs. Overbeck advises families to make brief notes before the recording session takes place. This and other tips of household pets, hobbies and other family news are not forgotten and repetition is kept at a minimum.

Family Christmas plans, news about the children and especially progress of the younger children are excellent topics for the wives of servicemen, the Red Cross official said. Parents may wish to report their state of health, changes in the family home, or information concerning local sports events.

Little Brother, Sister

She suggested that younger brothers and sisters describe their school activities, hobbies and other news of household pets, while the fiancée of a serviceman may wish to discuss their mutual friends, reporting on those who recently have joined the service, been married, or have new babies.

Mrs. Overbeck said military dependents living at the Army Depot with relatives abroad, change students, or new citizens in the community are also invited to use the free recording service.

Additional information may be obtained by calling the Red Cross office at GL 2-7184.

Council Ok 10 New Street Lights

Installation of 10 street lights was ordered Monday night by Granite City council members with adoption of a resolution to be forwarded to Illinois Power Co.

The locations will be on the northeast corner at 2400 Edison avenue, 2400 Delmar avenue and 2400 Cleveland blvd.; the north side of Rodgers avenue between 1533 and 1541; in front of 3120 and also 3221 Willow avenue; across the street in front of 2608 Prosser street; in front of 2429 Benton street and at the alley on Brumley avenue between Lincoln avenue and East 24th street.

The other location will be on the parking lot at 20th street and Cleveland blvd. that serves the public library.

A request was submitted for installation of a light on the south side of 25th street at the alley between State street and Edison avenue.

The city was notified by East St. Louis & Interurban Water Co. that a hydrant had been installed at St. Clair and Jill avenues.

Permission was given Illinois Power Co. for an excavation along 18th street east of Delmar to replace a cast iron gas line with steel.

Quadrant Draftees To Leave Friday

A group of about 40 Quadrant men is scheduled to leave Friday for induction into the armed services, although this number is subject to last-minute change due to the increase recently in the number of enlistments. The quota of Quadrant draftees for November was 54, according to the Madison County Selective Service board in Edwardsville.

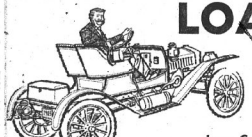

This number was cut by enlistments earlier in the month. The quota was set last month and is the largest for the area in recent years. Total for the entire county is 108 men.

Pre-draft physicals are to be given on Nov. 26 for a total of 143 men in Madison county, 66 of whom will be from the Quadrant area.

On Dec. 10, three local area men are to be inducted, while a group of 145 youths is to report for pre-induction physicals on Dec. 17. The delegation taking physicals will be made up of youths 18 years and nine months of age up to 22 years old by that date. The quota of three to be drafted, however, will be made up of youths at least 19 years old as of Dec. 1. An official of the Selective Service board said no married men will be drafted next month.

The December quotas for the county include 78 Alton area men and six Edwardsville youths to be drafted. Pre-draft physicals in December include 88 Alton area youths and 160 from the Edwardsville area.

Town fund disbursements were $1963 for salaries and travel allowances, $147 for employee retirement, $6 for the Associated Farmers monthly report and $4 for office supplies.

Yuletide Wants of Overseas Servicemen

A number of inquiries received daily at the local American Red Cross office request information on which items are most needed by servicemen on duty overseas, especially those in Viet Nam and Korea, it is reported by Mrs. Ruby Overbeck, Tri-City Chapter ARC executive.

According to reports from Red Cross field directors, stationed overseas, the following items would be greatly appreciated by servicemen if included in Christmas gift packages sent by their families, Mrs. Overbeck said. Paper back books; small pocket-size sets of checkers, chess or cribbage; adult-level jigsaw puzzles; toilet articles, razor blades, combs, etc.; harmonicas or ukuleles; pre-sweetened powdered drinks; red-pop popcorn (able to be popped in container); cookies and candies; photographs, records and small-size cameras.

Man Fined $100, Costs On Charge of Theft

Danny H. Knight, 27, of 2007 Sixth street, Madison, pleaded guilty to a charge of theft of under $150 Monday and was fined $100 and costs by Magistrate Hiscott. He was held in jail in lieu of payment.

He and a companion, Andrew Wiley, 20, of 945 Niedringhaus avenue, were arrested at 4:20 a.m. Saturday at East 23rd street and Ridgeland avenue, with a bicycle and a child's riding tractor in their possession. Wiley pleaded not guilty and was held in lieu of $3000 property bond.

Arrest Made in Mishap

Autos driven by Franklin D. Grizzard, 2617 West 26th street, and Susan Myers, 1604 Bremen avenue, collided at 8:25 p.m. Monday at Pontoon road and Mitchell avenue. She was arrested on a charge of making an improper left turn and was summoned for a hearing by Nov. 28.

Double Fracture of Leg For Wrestler at GCHS

Jimmy Fitzpatrick, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Fitzpatrick, 2941 Wayne avenue, who sustained a double fracture of his right leg during wrestling practice Monday at Granite City High school, was admitted overnight at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

The high school sophomore had returned to wrestling practice for the first time in more than two weeks when the mishap occurred. He is expected to be confined at home for about a week.

Also incurring a fracture of his right leg and admitted overnight was Richard Taylor, 19-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. James Taylor, 3208 Kirkpatrick Homes, who fell to the kitchen floor while playing.

Placed under observation in the pediatric ward was Alvin Wigfall, 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wigfall, 119 Market street, Madison, after the youngster complained of pains resulting from a possible neck injury which he suffered while playing football at Dunbar school last week.

Officer Buys Police Dog — Is Reimbursed

Patrolman Ralph Parmley, whose police dog "Prince" died of illness on Nov. 5, has another dog that he bought himself for use in the Granite City police department's canine corps.

However, the city council decided Monday night after hearing a recommendation of the Police committee, to reimburse the patrolman the price of the dog and also to pay the $250 fee for training the animal, whose name is Kirk.

Parmley, who said he had become quite attached to Prince, reported he had the dog thoroughly examined by a veterinarian before taking him for the police assignment. The patrolman also plans to spend much of his off-duty time working with a trainer who operates a kennel near Edwardsville.

Parmley pointed out the painter now is working the city's vacuum sign refacing machine in the boiler room of the city hall to provide signs for new traffic control zones at schools and refacing the city's many dilapidated stop signs.

Council members also voted to buy a 1966 Plymouth station wagon from Ellidge Motor Co. for the canine corps. The dog was $274.50 and was the only one received two weeks ago.

Permission was given Police Lt. William Condit, the department's traffic officer, to attend a three-week traffic institute at Northwestern University. The course carries a $200 registration fee and the total expense was $800 by the council.

Purpose of the school is to go into a thorough study of traffic problems and there solution to reduce the number of accidents in the city.

Bids will be sought for painting the walls and ceilings of lobbies on all three floors of the city hall.

Objections Raised

Objections were raised to hiring a contractor since the city has a fulltime painter, but Mayor Parmley pointed out the painter now is working the city's vacuum sign refacing machine in the boiler room of the city hall.

Salvation Army Still Taking Yule Basket Applications

Applications for Christmas baskets, provided through the annual "Tree of Lights" campaign, will continue to be accepted at the Salvation Army office, 1421 Nineteenth street, through Dec. 3.

Needy Quad-City families who wish to participate in the program may apply in person at Salvation Army headquarters any weekday between the hours of 9 a.m. and 4 p.m.

LT. Gorton suggests that other United Fund agencies, local churches and organizations which undertake Christmas basket programs, call the Salvation Army office to coordinate the names of those persons registered for baskets.

Kickoff ceremony for the 1965 "Tree of Lights" drive tentatively scheduled for Saturday, Dec. 4. This year's goal has not yet been announced. LT. Gorton said, but is expected to be slightly higher than the 1964 figure of $9000 due to the increase in the number of applications already received by the United Fund agency.

Traffic Commission Points Out

Yield Signs More Meaningful than Stops

The seriousness of violation of yield right-of-way signs is being stressed by the citizens' Traffic Control Commission of Granite City in conjunction with the number of traffic control changes being made in the city.

Dale Arnette, chairman of the commission, pointed out that under state law, any motorist involved in a collision after driving past a yield right-of-way sign automatically faces a failure to yield arrest.

"In some respects," he commented, "the yield signs may be termed more severe than stop signs, and it is noted that many motorists tend to treat the yield signs lightly and drive right through them without any thought of yielding."

The commissioner explained he is aware of such tendencies since he lives on a busy street corner where there are yield signs and that he has seen many "close calls."

In a six-week period in which over 127 traffic control changes have resulted from studies conducted by George Crawford, traffic engineer for the city, six accidents have occurred where changes were made. The city is averaging between three and four accidents a day.

Lt. Condis said the traffic control changes instituted to date by the traffic division of the police department, noted that a severe accident occurred at such engineer to complete the control an intersection last week, but programs in the vicinities of the crash actually was caused by a motorist traveling in the wrong direction on a one-way street and there was no traffic control at the intersection for the motorist to observe.

Aztec Built to Customer's Specs at German Auto, Inc.

By MIKE GREMAUD
Press-Record Sports Editor

"Was ist das?" "Das ist ein Aztec." "Ein Aztec?" "Ja, ein Aztec mit ein Volkswagen motor." "Ein Volkswagen motor?" "Ja."

A Volkswagen by any other name would simply remain a Volkswagen. But not the one built at German Autos, Inc., 1420 State street.

There is a most unusual Volkswagen (VW for short) that doesn't even resemble the familiar beetle.

It's an Aztec-Volkswagen. An Aztec-Volkswagen is a fiberglass Aztec body on a VW chassis and engine. The body, European-styled and American-made, resembles the cars in the five figure price range—Porsche 904, Ford GT, and so on.

But, never fear, loyal beetle owners, the Aztec doesn't even come close to that price range. According to Theodore Biewend and Wolfgang (no relation to Von Tripps, the great German race driver), proprietors of German Autos, Inc., you can drive an Aztec-Volkswagen for a fraction of the Porsche 904 cost.

"We only build them (Aztecs) on a contract basis," said Biewend, who with his partner, are the area's distributors for the Aztec car.

Will Build to Specs
"We will build one to the customer's specs. You know, what kind of engine and transmission he wants in it," Roempele said. The pair of German-born, German-trained mechanics went on to tell that the car is built on a VW chassis, with a VW engine mounted in the rear. In their specialty built car, they have used a Porsche transmission and brakes. Porsche and Volkswagen were both designed originally by Dr. Ferdinand Porsche.

"On the VW chassis, we can put either a VW, Porsche or Corvair engine," Biewend said. The Porsche engine, also a four-cylinder air-cooled engine like the VW, but with two big Solex carbs and more go.

V-8 Aztec?

"If you would want a V-8 engine in the car, then we would have to get another chassis to put the engine on it. In any case, the Aztec body will fit on the chassis," Roempele said.

The Aztec comes in various packages. There is the do-it-yourself deal, where you buy a complete kit—motor, transmission, running gear, upholstery, paint, wheels and other goodies—for a little over $1400. But, with this kit, one has to assemble it himself with a minimum amount of experience required," Biewend said.

Or, there is the lazy man's approach. Contact German Autos to build one for you. To do this you select the deluxe or the super deluxe model. The super deluxe model offers more plush interior design than the deluxe model.

Then the customer must decide what kind of powerplant he wants in the car, what kind of transmission, and so on.

Two Weeks to Build
The car on display at the shop took them about a month to build, doing this in their spare time. But, the pair of specialists were quick to point out that they would build one in two weeks for a customer.

An Aztec-Volkswagen would run about $800 including upholstery, carpeting, and all electrical systems, street ready for use. Should a prospective buyer want a Corvair or a Porsche Aztec, the cost would then go to around $5500.

"The reason that the Porsche Aztec is more expensive is because the Porsche engine and transmission are more expensive, and of course it is of better quality as well as performance," Biewend said.

The unique thing about the car is that there are no doors. The top tilts up, using a hydraulic system from a 1952 Ford convertible.

In Business Four Years

The boys at German Auto have been in business in Granite City for four years. At first they started out repairing only cars from the Deutchland, but as their business grew, they now accept all foreign cars for repairs.

Their garage contains everything from a regular beetle to an English compact station wagon, to the sleek expensive Jaguar XK-E.

In the four years of their operation, they have not only become the distributor for the Aztec car, but they have just recently been signed as an authorized dealership for the Swedish compact car, the Saab.

cently been signed as an authorized dealership for the Swedish compact car, the Saab.

Saab and Aztec Dealer

"We are growing, slowly but we are growing. Some day soon here, we are going to add a showroom for the Aztec and the Saab," Roempele said, pointing towards the front of their shop.

So, if you are ever passed on a street by a low, sleek silver car, resembling something like the best of Europe's road machines, have no fear. It's just a Volkswagen. An Aztec-Volkswagen.

Sportsman's Club Field Trials Set

Sanford-Brown to Start Dixon

Calvin Dixon, former Lincoln University basketball star, will be the only veteran player in the lineup when Sanford-Brown College opens its cage season against Hannibal-La Grange College Friday night.

Dixon, a 5-8 guard, is the main bright spot in coach John Campbell's season, in which Sanford-Brown will play 12 Greater St. Louis College conference games. Friday night's game, a non-conference tilt, will be played at the Concordia Seminary field house.

Students Convert House Into New Center

Students at Southern Illinois University, Carbondale, are pitching in to convert a rambling old two-story house into an attractive gathering-place for students living in off-campus housing.

Donated by a Carbondale real estate firm after serving since the turn of the century as a family residence, apartment building and rooming house, the green dwelling is being transformed by volunteers during their weekends.

About 25 turned out recently to begin the job of cleaning up and remodeling, and several more weekends will be needed to put the house in shape.

Tentative plans for the house include a lounge, snack bar, study and game rooms, and meeting rooms for groups and organization. The off-campus student center is expected to serve as a gathering place for many of the 6600 undergraduates living in off-campus housing in Carbondale.

The teacher eventually marries one of his students, Naomi Deane Norris. The play is intended to appeal to everyone as it contains humor, romance, music, fights and inspiration, according to the director, Mrs. Sonya Ackerson.

The production stars Steve Sless as Jesse Stuart, Debbie Berger as Naomi Norris, Paul Horan as Guy Hawkins, Laine Tadlock as Grandma Binion and Angie Gasparovic as Jennie Jarvis.

100,000 New Plates On Way to Motorists

The office of Secretary of State Paul Powell announced at Springfield this week that the motor vehicle division of his office has begun delivering 1966 license plates to the post office and that about 100,000 plates are now on their way to Illinois motorists.

According to Richard Shomaker, supervisor of the motor vehicle division, this is the earliest in the history of the office that plates have been placed in the mail. Powell pointed out that the license plate envelope carries a printed warning that it is against the law for the new plates to be displayed on cars prior to Dec. 1.

The plates which have been mailed are the results of reassignments and requests received during the month of September. All of the plates now being mailed are in the straight number series from 1 to 999,999.

Powell said that license number reassignments and requests in the series AA through FV will be mailed soon and that most motorists with requests in that series can expect their plates by Dec. 15.

I. W. Shavers, 26, of St. Louis, was sentenced to a term of one to three years in Menard state penitentiary. He pleaded guilty to the theft of portable television sets from State Radio & Television Co., 1536 State-street, last April 29.

Receiving two years probation was David R. Cox, 19, of 2028 Iowa street, who pleaded guilty to burglary at the Maryland-Birle supermarket, 2205 Pontion road, last Jan. 28; and John Robinson Jr., 21, and Willie Washington Jr., 24, both of East St. Louis, who pleaded guilty to theft of an auto from a Granite City parking lot last Sept. 8.

Within 600 Feet of Every School

Uniform 20 MPH School Zone Speed Limit

Motorists soon will be faced with bright red-orange school zone signs and a 20 mile-an-hour speed limit within 600 feet of every public and parochial school in the Granite City.

Council members adopted Monday night the Traffic Commission's recommendation for the 20-mph speed limit during school hours and when children are going to and from school. The 600 feet radius will be posted around every school in the city.

The bright diamond-shaped school zone signs are being turned out at a rapid pace in a special shop set up in the boiler room at the city hall where the city painter, Thomas Reynolds, is operating the city's new vacuum sign refacing machine.

Less Cost Per Sign The machine refinishes old signs or turns out new ones on blank steel sheets at about $3 less than the cost of new signs. In addition, the city is buying 20 mph speed signs to be installed on the same posts as the diamond-shaped school zone signs.

The signs are to be placed on all streets within 600 feet of schools or where youngsters cross streets. Delivery of the "School, 20 miles per hour" signs is expected within a few days, and then the street department will begin the installations.

The speed limit ordinance for school zones carries a fine not to exceed $100.

Variety of Limits Now Restrictions will be the same in the vicinity of all schools, council members stressed. In the past there have been as many as three speed limits—45, 35 and 25 mph—in the vicinity of a single school.

With the uniformity of the law, motorists should not have any difficulty once they see these bright red signs," Mayor Partney stated.

Several aldermen recalled that a few years ago, demands were made for 15 mph zones at some schools, but no one pushed for lower limits at others. The basic speed limits in the city is 30 mph, with lower or higher limits designated along certain thoroughfares.

Add Crossing Guard Employment of an additional school crossing guard to be stationed on Benton street at Oregon avenue for youngsters at the crossing was recommended by council members.

Several weeks ago petitions from Niedringhaus school children and parents requesting two guards—another at a Fehling road crossing—were accepted by the council but the request was turned down.

Alderman Robertson resumed

the request Monday night but the single guard, and the vote was 11-0-4. Mayor Partney asked where the funds for salary would come from and called upon Robertson to make a recommendation for the funds. Robertson refused.

Alderman Fry pointed out that $12,000 was budgeted for guards and $3600 already has been spent. It was suggested that perhaps the guard at 20th street and Madison avenue could be reassigned to the Benton street location.

Fry suggested the hiring be postponed until the Traffic Commission has had an opportunity to prepare and submit its recommendation on the 12 school crossing guards now employed by the city. However, the motion stood and the vote was taken.

JA Group Meets on Sales Contest, JAMCO

The Junior Achievement Association, including members from the Granite City center, discussed individual and company sales contests now in progress and the up-coming "JAMCO" to be held Nov. 26-27 at Poria at a meeting Sunday at the Statler-Hilton hotel, St. Louis.

A group of achievers who attended the National Association of Junior Achievement Centers at Indiana University last year are planning to stage a benefit play for crippled children. Also in the planning stage is a basketball game between St. Louis radio all-stars and the JA staff and center managers.

Achievers from the local center have invited those from the East St. Louis and Alton centers to meet this Sunday to plan a "triumph" open house during JA week, the last week in January.

Attending the St. Louis meeting were Linda Grotz, Jeanette Pulver, Louis Phillips, Bill Hanks, Shelby Bone, Kaye Jenkins, Harry James, Gary Hopkins, Richard Tankers, William Rekowski, Jerry Edwards, Diane Barnett, Eugene Vrenick and Wanda Jackson, the center representatives.

State Hospital's New Building Is Accepted

Contractors of the 2½ million medical-surgical building at the Alton State Hospital released the structure Tuesday for occupancy following approval of conditions by Department of Mental Health officials.

A. K. Smith, assistant superintendent, noted that contractors are still committed to completing certain operations and are subject to obligations until warranties on materials and equipment run out.

Acceptance of the building was confirmed following an inspection of the building by hospital officials and representatives from IDMH and the Division of Architecture and Engineering.

These same officials examined the building Oct. 27 and deferred judgment until Nov. 16 contingent on completion of minor tasks by the contractors. The 130-bed structure was started in the summer of 1963.

Smith said furnishing of the building will begin immediately. He said occupancy would be started within a month. No plans have yet been made for dedication, he added.

Certified Secretary Exam Is Scheduled

Secretaries are being reminded of a deadline set for Dec. 1 for making application to take the 1966 CPS examination administered by the Institute for Certifying Secretaries on May 6-7.

The CPS service committee of the local Tri-Cities Chapter of the National Secretaries Association has been set up to aid all prospective applicants, whether they are members of NSA or not, including both men and women. Plans call for a 24-foot wide concrete pavement from the end of the existing road to Bluff road, which then will be connected to old Highway 66 leading into Edwardsville. The trustees met at Camp Breckenridge, Ky.

$321,149 Contract Let For New Campus Road

The Southern Illinois University board of trustees has awarded a $321,149 contract to Bituminous Fuel and Oil Co. of East St. Louis to complete construction of an entrance road on the new Northwestern campus. Plans call for a 24-foot wide concrete pavement from the end of the existing road to Bluff road, which then will be connected to old Highway 66 leading into Edwardsville. Individual Household Seek Annexation

Annexations of four individual homes in the Dream Villa area, requested by the owners, will be studied by the City Plan Commission before council action is taken, the aldermen decided Monday night.

No action was taken again on the annexation of the 117-acre tract requested by Arthur McFarland and associates for development of homes, duplex dwellings and a shopping area on the south side of East Pontoon road, east of Holiday Gardens subdivision.

Aldermen of the Eighth Ward have objected to zoning for residences and duplex dwellings while the other was to be developed near the R-1 zoned areas of the city. McFarland was present for the council session but did not state as the matter was laid over for another week. His plan has been approved by the City Plan Commission.

Alderman Thompson called for the Plan Commission to comply with the city's subdivision control ordinance in requiring the presentation of preliminary and plot plans by developers.

All in Dream Villa

The individual annexation requests were submitted in two letters to the council. Stanley Rutkowski, who lives on Willow avenue in Dream Villa Addition, has no sewers.

The tract adjacent to the Gazo has been objected to be developed by Clarence Lahe with duplex dwellings and apartments.

Don't Overcook Turkey

Today's high-quality turkeys cook in considerably shorter periods than many cookbooks recommend.

Improved growing practices have produced more tender turkeys with more white meat than formerly.

Studies show that completely defrosted 10-pound turkeys are satisfactorily cooked at a temperature of 325°F. for 16 minutes a pound. The low temperature assures better flavor and appearance, with less shrinkage and loss of juices.

The following is a good guide to total roasting time:

Ready-to-cook weight, 6 to 10 pounds, oven temperature, 325 degrees, interior temperature, 185-190 degrees, 2 to 2½ hours roasting time; 8 to 12 pounds, 325 degrees oven temperature, 185-190 degrees interior temperature, 2½ to 3 hours roasting time; 12 to 16 pounds, 325 degrees oven temperature, 185-190 degrees interior temperature, 3 to 3½ hours roasting time; 16 to 23 pounds, 325 degrees oven temperature, 185-190 degrees interior temperature, 3½ to 4½ hours roasting time.

Differences in individual birds may mean a slight increase or decrease in cooking time. For example, the interior temperature of the defrosted bird will be a time factor.

When dinner is set for a definite hour, we homemakers start the bird about 30 minutes ahead of schedule to avoid delays if the turkey should take longer to cook than the estimated time.

When using a meat thermometer, insert it in the center of the inside thigh muscle or the thickest part of the breast muscle. Turkey is done when the thermometer registers about 185°F. or when the thigh joint moves easily.

Any open pan with a rack is a satisfactory roasting utensil, and for large birds the oven broiler pan is ideal.

Stuff the turkey just before roasting it, and then completely cook it in a continuous period.

Keep Guns Out of Children's Reach

The hunting season puts added emphasis on the importance of gun safety and the need to keep firearms out of the reach of children.

O. L. Hogsett, University of Illinois extension safety specialist, says: "Even though you believe that all guns on your premises are unloaded and therefore safe,

John Koch Honored For 1965 Insurance Sales

John Koch, 2336 Angela drive, an agent in the East St. Louis district of the Prudential Insurance Co., topped the million-dollar mark for sales in 1965, according to an announcement by William F. Curcio jr., manager of the East St. Louis office.

Koch has represented Prudential since June 1960. He was a born and raised in Belleville and was graduated in 1936 from Belleville township high school.

He doesn't take chances. Keep them out of the reach of children.

A gun cabinet with a locked door is the safest storage place but lack of such a cabinet is no excuse for carelessness. Find a spot that is adequate for storing firearms, and make sure it is beyond the reach of children.

Remember, too, that ammunition, in or out of a gun, is dangerous unless handled with caution. Since much ammunition is toy-sized it is an enticement to children. Store it away from the guns.

Although there may be occasions when it is important to keep a gun near for protection, be sure to keep it out of the sight and the reach of children.

HUMANE OFFICER Albert Young with "Chico," donated to the Granite City Animal Shelter as a pet. The four-month-old Squirrel monkey is in need of training, Young said.

Young Monkey Donated As Pet At Animal Shelter

Albert Young, Granite City humane officer, has undertaken a new job along with his regular duties—the raising of a young squirrel monkey which has been donated to the city Animal Shelter as a pet.

The monkey, four months old, is an active long-tailed animal weighing about four pounds and with a disposition a little more hot tempered than had been expected by its original owner, Ed

Moore, Granite City contractor who gave the monkey to Young.

Moore ordered the monkey named Chico from Miami, Fla., as a housepet. According to Young, its disposition made it difficult to train and Moore gave the animal to Young to see if he could work a little means out of it.

Young said he sees no reason why the youthful animal cannot become a peaceful pet, although it bit him within two days after he had it.

Right at the moment, Young said, he is in serious need of a monkey cage—the larger the better—to house the animal. At the moment it is confined in a cage about three feet square which gives it only a little room to jump about.

Any Season is Good to Tour Areas of Southern Illinois

By JOHN W. ALLEN
Southern Illinois University

Any season is a good one in which to stroll along the high ways and byways of southern Illinois. November easily is one of the better months for that purpose. This is to suggest a trip that includes points of interest varied enough to make it enjoyable for anyone.

Instead of driving up and down, then back and forth to widely separated spots, a number of places in one county have been selected to see more thoroughly. Since Randolph county is an older inhabited part of the state, people having lived here a good ten thousand years, thus giving human interest to many sites, Randolph is chosen as a locality for trying the county-by-county plan.

Since every journey must begin somewhere this one starts from Ruma, a few miles south of Red Bud where Route 155 leads toward Prairie du Rocher. The first point selected to pause and take note is a Catholic convent south of the highway about two miles west of Ruma.

Order for Training

Here an order of that church trains nurses and teachers. Partially hidden by a rise of ground, hedges, and bits of woodland, visitors easily can pass it by unnoticed. A visit past the little church, and cemetery to the rather impressive convent buildings, passing along the way to look about, can not fail to impress a visitor.

Continuing west four miles along Highway 155 the traveler reaches the impressive ruins of Fort de Chartres, first built by the French in 1720 under Boisbrenant. The fort, completed in 1765, was the rival of any military fortification on the continent. Today the foundations of most of its old buildings remain.

A few buildings at one end have been rebuilt, along with the gateway. The original powder magazine is intact, so solidly built with lime and sand mortar that local farmers couldn't afford to use it apart for its stones. Likewise the old well couldn't be pulled up.

Fort de Chartres' old parade ground has great trees growing in it. Three flag poles at one end carry flags of France, Britain and the United States. Though this fort never fired a shot in anger, it carried considerable weight in New World affairs.

As we drive back to Prairie du Rocher great openings in the bluffs come into view. Trucks enter a half mile or more to bring stone out to the crusher near the foot of the bluff. If you are a dreamer these man-made caves may suggest the growing of mushrooms.

Back in Prairie du Rocher the traveler should turn south through the village to Modoc. On the way he will pass a long line of bluffs with overhanging rock ledges. Indians once lived beneath these ledges. Some years ago the Illinois State Museum, when told of "Indian signs" beneath the ledges, came to inspect and excavate. Going downward through many feet of accumulated bones, ashes, wind-blown dust, charcoal and chips, they kept finding the date, determined by carbon 14 radiation testing, backward.

Modoc Site

Time and funds exhausted, the pits were refilled, but not until the date of human habitation had been moved backward ten thousand years, making this the earliest verified human habitation east of the Mississippi. A book tells about the Modoc site and a display of the findings is in the State Museum.

Perhaps it would be best at Modoc to turn east over the road toward Ruma. On the way, a scant half mile before reaching St. Leo's church, one passes the grave of Dr. George Fisher, noted physician. Dr. Fisher was founder of the first hospital in Illinois, at the site of the vaccination for smallpox and of a founding father of Illinois.

Going south from Ruma for about fifteen miles one reaches a paved road into Kaskaskia State Park. Within the park a right turn leads past a spring house, Fort Kaskaskia's water supply, and uphill to the site of Fort Kaskaskia. Earthen mounds mark the outline of the fort, built by the French.

Store Windows Broken In Business District

Vandals broke three large display windows of stores in the Granite City business district late Monday, police discovered while patrolling the downtown streets.

Rocks were thrown through windows at Schiff's Shoe store, 1308 Nineteenth street, and at the Libben shop, 18th street and Edison avenue, and broken concrete was thrown through a pane of glass at Steinberg's Furniture store, 1829 State street.

The damage was found at about 11 p.m. Store owners and managers were notified.

GC Police Board Seeks Applicants; One Job Open

Applications to take a Granite City police department examination will be available until 5 p.m. Friday, on the day of the exam which will be held Saturday at 10 a.m. at the police firing range, William Brooks, chairman of the board of Fire and Police Commissioners, said today. The board has received over 25 applications and is seeking more applicants, Brooks said.

Application forms are available at Brooks' office, 1307 Twenty-first street, from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m. through Friday. There is currently one vacancy on the department, due to the resignation of Steve Garich, patrolman, earlier this week. Brooks said this vacancy will be filled by Dec. 1. Brooks said the board desires a minimum of around 40 applicants to obtain a representative group of qualified men for examinations.

Eligible applicants must be Granite City residents between the ages of 21 and 35 years. Minimum height is five feet, nine inches, and the minimum weight, 160 pounds.

At the present time, the Granite City council is studying a proposal to add two men to the police department.

Silver Persian Cat Wins in 4 Divisions

"Champion Willow Walk Jefferson Caesar," a shaded silver Persian, owned by Mr. and Mrs. David D. Taylor of the Willow Walk Cattery, 148 Central avenue, Mitchell, took "best of color, opposite sex" trophies in each of four separate divisions of the Greater St. Louis Cat Show, which ended this week in St. Louis.

The green-eyed Persian male, recent champion of the Distinct cat show in Memphis, Tenn., also appeared on a televised newscast. Another Taylor entry, "Willow Walk Tawney," a brown tabby female, captured two trophies and best of color awards in all four shows.

Seven pure-bred cats, shown by the local couple amassed a total of 20-first place wins, five second-place and two third-place cat purchases from the local breeders also competed successfully.

They included "Willow Walk Sunny Gem," a chinchilla male Persian, owned by Mrs. Effie Williamson of Springfield, Ill., which captured a championship; a chocolate-point female Siamese kitten, "Willow Walk Katscha," owned by Mr. and Mrs. William Shmiker, also of Springfield, which placed first and best of color in three of the four shows; and "Champion Willow Walk Noelle," a smoke gray female Persian and first place winner in each show, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Pallister of St. Louis.

Santa Claus to Attend Display Home Opening

Quand-City area children will have an opportunity to visit with Santa Claus on Dec. 4 when he attends the grand opening of the 15th anniversary model homes at the Henry Ross Dream Villa subdivision, it was announced today by Henry Ross, president of Henry Ross Construction Co., Inc.

Ross said Santa is scheduled to arrive by helicopter at 3 p.m. following a ribbon-cutting ceremony at the Williamsburg home—one of seven model homes that are to be on display for the event.

Mayor Donald Partney will cut the ribbon at 2 p.m. to mark the grand opening of the 1966 model homes and Ross' 15th anniversary in the homebuilding industry.

Dream Villa is located east of Edgewood drive, between St. Clair and Gorbe addition. The anniversary homes are on O'Hare avenue.

Sewer, Street Problems

Johnson Rd. 'Lake' Drainage Contract Ok'd by GC Council

Drainage of the "lake" in the 3300 block of Johnson road is scheduled to be undertaken soon as Granite City council members accepted Monday night a low bid of $350 submitted by General Contracting Co. The only other bid was $345 by A. H. Seebold Co.

The drainage line is to be connected on an existing line installed by residents of the Gorbe Addition, a subdivision outside the city limits. The Gorbe line empties into the Nameoki storm water drainage ditch.

Council members debated a contract award motion amendment by Alderman Moerlein that would have required General Contracting to clear a motor fuel tax project for Nevada avenue before proceeding with the Johnson road project. The debate is finally subsided, and it was agreed the project was not to be delayed provided the firm satisfies the city that the Nevada avenue obligations have been concluded.

Other Drainage Projects

Bids are to be opened Nov. 22 on two other drainage projects and the widening of the St. Clair avenue bridge to include a sidewalk at the drainage ditch. The other drainage projects planned are for Smith avenue, a short street off St. Clair avenue, and Pontoon road near Murdoch avenue.

Plans for relocation of a Nameoki sanitary sewer system manhole on the parking lot at Korayak's Market, 2600 Nameoki road, are to be submitted to the council for approval. William Korayak plans to expand his store at the front, and the expansion will be over the manhole.

The owner is to pay all costs for relocation, but the city reserves the right for an engineer to approve the plans before work is started. The manhole, serves a line that crosses the market parking lot between Pershing avenue and Victory drive.

Another problem with the sanitary sewer system at 128 Briarcliff is to be corrected by the street department. The sewer lines go under a driveway project early next year. There and backfill has been made, making the driveway. It was reported the sewer line had been installed by the developer and accepted by the city.

Sewer Problems

Alderman Moerlein, chairman of the special drainage committee, reported the initial step may be taken to get sanitary sewers in the un-served areas of North Granite and West Granite, proposed for City Atty. Allen to write to the water company, demanding water line repairs.

The state highway department notified the city of approval of $100,000 motor fuel tax allocation for a joint city-county widening and concrete paving project for Maryville road from the north city limits to Pontoon road. The city's share will be $55,000 and the county also will use $55,000 of its MFT for the project.

City Atty. Allen advised the council he had been told by the state highway department that it would possibly go $50-50 on the cost for resurfacing Missouri avenue, provided state funds would be available. Alderman Rutledge pointed out the city presently is low on motor fuel tax funds. He recalled the state had wanted to widen and improve the roadway several years ago, but residents objected because they believed it would continue to the street.

Rutledge called for the street department to seal cracks in the concrete pavement to prevent water deterioration. An ordinance was approved establishing a 50-foot parking zone with a 30-minute limit in front of Peck's confectionery, 2408 Illinois avenue.

George Elkins, 907 McCambridge avenue, Madison, was arrested at 4:35 p.m. Monday on a charge of forgery. He pleaded not guilty Tuesday and was held in lieu of $3000 property bond set by Magistrate Hascott.

The complaint was filed by the Harold H. Rapp, 2200 Wabash state attorney's office. He was accused of forging a check for $400 at the First Granite City branch of the First National Bank on Oct. 21.

Episcopalians Planning Conference on Friday

Rev. Paul Dicks, rector of St. Bartholomew's Episcopal Church, and Donald MacDonald, a layman, will be in Belleville Friday to attend a metropolitan area planning conference designated as "Metro St. Louis" and scheduled by the Episcopal Diocese of Missouri and Springfield (Illinois).

The conference will take place at Augustine's restaurant and about 200 clergy, laymen and invited representatives of other denominations will convene at the call of Bishop Albert A. Chambers and Bishop George L. Cutgan.

The conference is one of a series of such meetings being held in urban areas throughout the nation under auspices of the joint urban program of the Executive Council of the Episcopal Church. It will be the first held involving more than one diocese.

The purpose of the conference is to "take a searching look at the impact of the contemporary city and the contemporary church upon each other," the Rev. Richard Tomlinson, chairman of the steering committee, has announced.

Mary C. Heagy, 2011 Hampton street, Venice, was arrested at 9:15 a.m. Tuesday on a speeding charge at 2800 Madison avenue where police operated a radar unit. She was summoned for a hearing by Dec. 1.

NEW CLINICAL LABORATORY supervisor at Alton State Hospital, Robert Belland, whose appointment is being announced.

New Lab Supervisor At State Hospital

Robert Belland, a laboratory technician with 16 years experience, has been named clinical laboratory supervisor at Alton State Hospital, according to Dr. Abraham Simon, superintendent. He previously worked as lab supervisor at St. Mary's Hospital, East St. Louis.

In the newly-created post, Belland will be directly responsible for all clinical bacteriological and pathological services, which come under the direction of Dr. Alex G. Zeghy, pathologist. His appointment brings the number of laboratory personnel to eight, increasing the hospital's accreditation qualifications, Dr. Simon said.

During the Korean War, Belland was with an Army medical unit at Sasebo, Japan, where he worked on several research projects.

GCAARC to Hear Details On Sheltered Workshop

Plans for establishing a sheltered workshop in the Quad-City area to train and educate handicapped persons, 16 years and over, will be the topic of a talk to be given here by Joseph Budde, director of specialized services for a similar facility in Alton.

The official will elaborate on the necessary steps to be taken in starting the proposed program when he addresses the tenth anniversary meeting of the Granite City Association for Aid to Retarded Children, at 7:30 p.m. Monday in St. John United Church of Christ on Nameoki road.

In urging all parents of handicapped children to attend, Mrs. Evelyn Gavin, GCAARC president, said today that a local sheltered workshop program could prove beneficial in later years to area youngsters who may be attending various schools. She added that the meeting is open to the public.

Review of County Audit Delayed To Next Month

On suggestion of its chairman, Harold Landolt of Alhambra, the Madison county board of supervisors Tuesday decided to delay for another month a discussion of the recent audit of all county funds and ignored a suggestion by one supervisor that the discussion be thrown open to the public.

Running almost an hour beyond the usual noon adjournment, the board completed committee reports shortly before 1 p.m. and was informed that a representative of the R. C. Schell & Co. auditing firm of Alton, which made the audit, was on hand to discuss the matter at the board's convenience. Landolt suggested the matter be put over until the December meeting.

Joseph Watsker of Alton took the floor and suggested "that if the audit discussion was to be postponed, he would like to see the rules suspended in the next meeting so that 'anyone present can ask any question they may have about it."

Landolt replied that any county board member had a right to ask any question he saw fit. "I mean throw the discussion open to anyone so that if they want to ask a question about the audit they can get an explanation," Watsker replied.

"You mean throw the meeting open to the public?" Landolt asked.

"Yes, its been done before in a lot of places," said Watsker. "We would be here all week," Landolt remarked, ending the discussion.

In addition to the booths, a spaghetti or tuna casserole luncheon will be served between 11 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. at $1 per person, while an evening meal, served from 5 to 7:30 p.m. will feature Swiss steak or ham dinners at $1.50 per person. Children under 10 years will be charged 75 cents each.

Sidewalks in Subdivisions May be Required by City

A recommendation for sidewalks to be installed on both sides of streets in new subdivisions is expected to be presented to the city council next week, it was announced during Monday night's session by Alderman Paul Rutledge, chairman of the Zoning and Planning committee. Rutledge said the proposal was made several weeks ago by Sixth Ward Alderman Parmley, whose area includes many new areas. The plan was taken up by the City Planning Commission and that he believes the recommendation will follow.

Views Change

"Many young people," Parmley said, "buy homes in areas without sidewalks and see no reason until their youngsters grow to school age and there's no place to walk except in the street."

Editorial in the meeting he called for the amendment to the subdivision control ordinance to be prepared, but it was decided to wait for the Planning Commission's recommendation.

Several reports of hazardous sidewalk conditions were presented to the council. The Mason Temple Association, headed by E. Kemmer, president, reported a hole in the city sidewalk in front of the building at 20th street and Cleveland blvd., especially in winter when wearing high heels.

Letter was referred to the Street Committee and City Atty. Allen.

Submits Photographs

Second Ward Alderman Bartosik presented photographs of various sidewalk locations. He said the levels at some joints varied by four inches. Locations
